Worked for what we needed and continues to impress!

By Zodiac on December 6, 2015

I was a little skeptical buying these, but with the low energy efficiency they offered, I had to try it. I live in an older model single wide and our furnace went out for a couple months, and being an older model, it can't handle a bunch of 1500 watt heaters throughout the house and I needed at least 2 heaters. I ordered two of these, one for each bedroom to accompany the large heater in the living room so there would be heat through the entire house. These two heaters did so much better than the large

These are Dangerous. They are Melting and so far ...

By James Morris on December 31, 2015

These are Dangerous. They are Melting and so far 5 Of the 10 I purchased are unusable after 2 weeks. Please Discontinue use if you have one of these. I would not want to see anyone lose their life. These are not UL listed and are unsafe.

These two heaters did so much better than the large heater I had in my living room! I am so impressed! We stayed warm until we could get our furnace fixed. Now it is fixed and I still use one of these heaters on low (400watts) in my bathroom to keep the area warm, it's the coldest room in the house and drafty, got to fix that next. Lol
